DEATH FROM TRICHINOSIS. - A young bu cher, giving his name as Franz A. Axler appeared at Bellevue Hospital sometime since and complained that he had rheumatism. He was addays the physicians were unable to make a proper diagnosis of Axler's case. The patient attracted the attention of the whole hospital to spoortion among the individuals of the class of creditors said stornies were engaged.

And the commissioner is further ordered to apportion among the individuals of the class of creditors and commissioner is further ordered to apport on among the individuals of the class of creditors and commissioner is further ordered. staff, and after his symptoms had been elefely or classes of creditors by whom said counsel was ched it was at last discovered that he was wa'ched it was at last disc vered that he was suffering from trichines's. It was plain from a careful investigation that the butcher had conreacted the disease by eating raw pork, and all kinds of remedies were tried in the hope of destroying the parasites witch were devouring the man's muscles. Professor Janeway with his lance removed a small piece of muconlar tissue ose day last w ek, and after a careful microscopic examination found it to contain no less than thirteen living trichitæ. After lingering in pain for several weeks Ax'er died on Saturday last. For the beach: of science it was decided to make an auropsy on the remains. Tuesday afternoon the dissetting room near the Morgue was filled with professors and surgeous anxious to with se the pes martem. Axier's body was laid upon one of the tables, and when no ned was found to be swarming with trichica. A cond to execute the requirements of the above careful examina ion showed that every musele had been attacked and nearly destroyed by the ravenous parasites. - New York Herald.
